Happy Friday.

Some of you have requested a PayPal-specific communication on the eBay Inc separation that you could email to customer contacts. Attached is approved messaging you can copy and paste directly into outlook to send to your LE customers and prospects.

Huge thanks to our partners in PR/Comms – Martha and Chris – for their support of the LE team during this week's announcements.

Let us know if you have any questions.

Importance: High

All:

Ebay Enterprise has written a client approved letter that they are sending to their customers about today's announcement. In those cases when the customer is a joint Enterprise - PayPal customer, please leverage the attached PR/Comms approved letter to send together with your Enterprise counterpart.

Please let me know if you have any questions.
Thank you,
Linette
